The term “United States transferor” includes:

- A citizen or resident of the United States.
- A domestic corporation.

- In the case of an exchange described in section 361(a) or section 361(b) that is subject to section 367(a)(5), the five or fewer domestic corporate shareholders who control the United States transferor.

Form 926 and Form 8838 must be filed as attachments to the U.S. person’s income tax return for the tax year the transfer is made.

Specific Instructions

Identifying number.—The identifying number of an individual is the individual’s social security number. For all other taxpayers, it is the employer identification number.

Address.—Include the suite, room, or other unit number after the street address. If the Post Office does not deliver mail to the street address and the transferor has a P.O. box, show the box number instead of the street address.

Line 1.—The correct expiration date to be entered on line 1 is specified by the regulations under section 367(a) and section 367(e).

Signature.—This consent must be signed by a trustee, executor, or equivalent fiduciary in the case of a trust or estate, by a responsible officer in the case of a corporation, by a debtor or trustee in a bankruptcy case under title 11, United States Code, or by an individual in the case of an individual transferor.

Corporation.—If the taxpayer is a corporation, a responsible officer of the corporation must sign the return and show his or her title. Affiliated groups filing a consolidated income tax return should see Regulations section 1.1502-77 and Temporary Regulations section 1.1502-77T for rules about a common parent signing as an agent for subsidiaries and alternative agents for affiliated groups.
