Definitions

Original issue discount means the excess of the stated redemption price at maturity over the issue price.

Stated redemption price at maturity means the amount fixed by the last modification of the purchase agreement and includes interest and other amounts payable at maturity (other than interest based on a fixed rate and payable unconditionally at fixed periodic intervals of 1 year or less during the entire term of the debt instrument).

Issue price, in the case of publicly offered instruments not issued for property, means the initial offering price to the public (excluding bond houses and brokers) at which a substantial amount of such instruments was sold.

For more information about OID instruments and the OID reporting requirements, see Pub. 1212, List of Original Issue Discount Instruments.

Penalty

An issuer who fails to timely file Form 8281 will be subject to a penalty of 1% of the aggregate issue price of the debt instruments, unless such failure is due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect. The maximum penalty with respect to any issue is $50,000.

Specific Instructions

For serial obligations, complete Items 1 through 3 and attach a list showing the information for Items 4 through 14 for each obligation within the series. For all other obligations, complete all items.

To revise a form, write "Revised" across the top of this form and staple a copy of the previously filed form to this form. Complete all items on this form.

Items 3a and 3b.—Enter the name, address, and telephone number of an official or representative of the issuing company who has personal knowledge of this offering and who can be contacted if additional information is needed.

Item 4.—Enter the Committee on Uniform Security Identification Procedures (CUSIP) number assigned to the instruments.

Item 5.—Enter the date on which the issue was first sold to the public at the issue price.

Item 7.—Enter the type of instrument issued, such as unsecured public issue, an instrument backed by Treasury obligations, or foreign issue.

Item 8.—Enter the issue price as a percent of the principal amount. For example, XYZ bonds were first offered to the public at $900 with a principal amount of $1,000. The issue price of $900 expressed as a percent of principal is 90. If the percent is 100 or more, explain in Item 14.

If the instrument is part of an investment unit or exchange offering, attach a description of the method used to determine the issue price.

Item 9.—Enter the annual stated (or coupon) interest rate. If zero, enter "0." If the interest rate is variable, check the box and indicate the rate for the first year. If the rate is determined annually, check the box and explain in Item 14 how the annual rate will be determined. If any terms or conditions under the offering could change the stated interest rate, check the box and attach an explanation or a copy of the prospectus or offering circular containing such information.

Item 10.—Enter the interest payment dates.

Item 11.—Enter the amount of OID for the entire issue. For example, if the issue price for the entire issue totals $890,000, and the stated redemption price at maturity totals $1 million, the OID for the entire issue is $110,000.

Item 12.—Enter the yield to maturity as a percent. For example, if the annual yield is 9% and the yield to maturity is 9.6%, enter 9.6%. If the interest rate is determined annually, do not complete this Item.

Item 14.—Please provide a description of the instruments including any terms and conditions that provide for payments of principal before maturity or early retirement. Also indicate whether the instruments are:

1. Part of an investment unit.
2. Issued in an exchange offering described in section 368(a).
3. Part of a serial issue.

You may provide a copy of the prospectus or offering circular instead of the required description.

To compute the OID allocable to a debt instrument having a short accrual period, you may use any reasonable method.

Please indicate what method you used.

You must attach a schedule of OID per $1,000 principal amount for the life of the instrument. However, if the principal amount is other than $1,000, indicate the actual OID per principal amount per year and specify the actual principal amount. The schedule must be based on a 6-month accrual period. It must show the daily portion of OID for each accrual period and the total OID for each calendar year.
