Instructions for Recipient

Generally, distributions from pensions, annuities, profit-sharing and retirement plans, IRAs, insurance contracts, etc., are reported to recipients on Form 1099-R.

IRAs.—For distributions from an individual retirement arrangement (IRA) or simplified employee pension (SEP), generally the payer is not required to compute the taxable amount. Therefore, the amounts in boxes 1 and 2a will be the same most of the time. See Pub. 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs), and Form 8606, Nondeductible IRAs (Contributions, Distributions, and Basis), to determine the taxable amount. If you are at least age 70½, you must take minimum distributions from your IRA. If you don't, you may be subject to a 50% excise tax on the amount that should have been distributed. See Pub. 590.

Excess Distributions.—If your distribution from a qualified plan is more than $155,000, you may owe an excise tax. See Form 5329, Additional Taxes Attributable to Qualified Retirement Plans (Including IRAs), Annuities, and Modified Endowment Contracts. This does not apply to beneficiaries except a surviving spouse who elected not to have the estate pay the excess accumulation tax.

Beneficiaries.—If you receive a plan distribution as the beneficiary of a deceased employee, you may be entitled to a death benefit exclusion of up to $5,000. Only one $5,000 exclusion applies per decedent, and it must be divided among all beneficiaries. See Pub. 575, Pension and Annuity Income (Including Simplified General Rule).

Box 1.—Shows the total amount you received this year. The amount may have been a direct rollover or received as periodic payments, as nonperiodic payments, or as a total distribution. Report this amount on your tax return on the line for "Total IRA distributions" or "Total pensions and annuities" (or the line for "Taxable amount"), whichever applies, unless this is a lump-sum distribution and you are using Form 4972, Tax on Lump-Sum Distributions. However, if you have not reached minimum retirement age, report your disability payments on the line for "Wages, salaries, tips, etc." Also report on that line corrective distributions of excess deferrals, excess contributions, or excess aggregate contributions.

If you received a death benefit payment made by an employer because you are the beneficiary of a deceased employee and the payment was not made from the employer's pension, profit-sharing, or retirement plan, report this amount, less any allowable death benefit exclusion, on your tax return on the line for "Other income." See Pub. 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income.

If a life insurance, annuity, or endowment contract has been transferred tax free to another trustee or contract issuer, an amount will be shown in this box and Code 6 will be shown in box 7. You need not report this on your tax return.

Box 2a.—This part of the distribution is generally taxable. However, if there is no entry in this box, the payer may not have all the facts needed to figure the taxable amount. In that case, the first box in box 2b should be marked. You may want to get one of the following publications from the IRS to help you figure the taxable amount: Pub. 571, Tax-Sheltered Annuity Programs for Employees of Public Schools and Certain Tax-Exempt Organizations, Pub. 575, Pub. 590, Pub. 721, Tax Guide to U.S. Civil Service Retirement Benefits, or Pub. 939, Pension General Rule (Nonsimplified Method). For an IRA distribution, see IRAs on this page. For a direct rollover, zero should be shown, and you must enter zero on the "Taxable amount" line of your tax return.

If this is a total distribution from a qualified plan and you were at least age 59½ on the date of distribution (or you are the beneficiary of someone who had reached age 59½ or someone born before 1936), you may be eligible for the 5- or 10-year tax option. See Form 4972 for more information. The 5- or 10-year tax option does not apply to IRAs or tax-sheltered annuities.

Box 2b.—If the first checkbox is marked, the payer was unable to determine the taxable amount, and box 2a should be blank unless this is an IRA distribution. If the second checkbox is marked, the distribution was a total distribution that closed out your account.

Box 3.—If you received a lump-sum distribution from a qualified plan and you were born before 1936 (or you are the beneficiary of someone born before 1936), you may be able to elect to treat this amount as a capital gain. See the Instructions for Form 4972. For a charitable gift annuity, this is the amount of any long-term capital gain.

Box 4.—This is the amount of Federal income tax withheld on the distribution. Include this on your income tax return as tax withheld, and if box 4 shows an amount other than zero, attach Copy B to your return. Generally, if you will receive payments next year that are not eligible rollover distributions, you can change your withholding or elect not to have income tax withheld by giving the payer Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments.

Box 5.—Generally, this shows the employee's investment in the contract (after-tax contributions), if any, recovered tax free this year; the part of premiums paid on commercial annuities or insurance contracts recovered tax free; or the nontaxable part of a charitable gift annuity. This box does not show any contributions to an IRA or SEP.

Box 6.—If you received a lump-sum distribution from a qualified plan that includes securities of the employer's company, the net unrealized appreciation (NUA) (any increase in value of such securities while in the trust) is taxed only when you sell the securities unless you elect to include it in your gross income. See Pub. 575 and the Instructions for Form 4972. If you did not receive a lump-sum distribution, the amount shown is the NUA attributable to employee contributions, which is not taxed until you sell the securities.

Box 7.—These codes identify the distribution you received:

1—Early (premature) distribution, no known exception (in most cases, under age 59½) (See Form 5329. For a rollover of the entire taxable part of the distribution, do not file Form 5329. See the instructions for your tax return.); 2—Early (premature) distribution exception applies (under age 59½) (You need not file Form 5329.); 3—Disability (You need not file Form 5329.); 4—Death (You need not file Form 5329.); 5—Prohibited transaction;

6—Section 1035 exchange (a tax-free exchange of life insurance, annuity, or endowment contracts); 7—Normal distribution; 8—Excess contributions plus earnings/excess deferrals (and/or earnings) taxable in 1996; 9—PS 58 costs (premiums paid by a trustee or custodian for current insurance protection, taxable to you currently); P—Excess contributions plus earnings/excess deferrals taxable in 1995; A—May be eligible for 5- or 10-year tax option (See Form 4972.); B—May be eligible for death benefit exclusion; C—May be eligible for both A and B; D—Excess contributions plus earnings/excess deferrals taxable in 1994; E—Excess annual additions under section 415 (Report on your tax return on the line for taxable pension or annuity income. You need not file Form 5329.); F—Charitable gift annuity; G—Direct rollover to IRA (You need not file Form 5329.); H—Direct rollover to qualified plan or tax-sheltered annuity. (You need not file Form 5329.)

If the IRA/SEP box is marked, you have received an IRA or SEP distribution.

Box 8.—If you received an annuity contract as part of a distribution, the value of the contract is shown. It is not taxable when you receive it and should not be included in boxes 1 and 2a. When you receive periodic payments from the annuity contract, they are taxable at that time. If the distribution is made to more than one person, the percentage of the annuity contract distributed to you is also shown. You will need this information if you elect the special 5- or 10-year tax option.

Box 9a.—If a total distribution was made to more than one person, the percentage you received is shown here.

Box 9b.—If this is the first year of a life annuity from a qualified plan or from a tax-sheltered annuity (with after-tax contributions), the amount shown is your total investment in the contract. Use it if you choose to compute the taxable part of the distribution using a method different from the method used by the payer. See Pub. 575.

Boxes 10–15.—If state or local income tax was withheld from the distribution, these boxes may be completed. Boxes 12 and 15 may show the part of the distribution subject to applicable state and/or local tax.
